

Online Education

Mediaplanet partners with USDLA

In collaboration with the United States Distance Learning Association, Mediaplanet is releasing a campaign dedicated to the importance of introducing and promoting online education to current and new learners. Today over 5.8 million students are enrolled in online courses, and even though that number continues to rise, the stigma against online education still exist that online or distance learning degrees are “less of a degree” than a traditional in classroom experience.

Campaign Aim

This campaign will provide real discussions, heartwarming stories and solutions on the burgeoning learning online landscape, targeting students and constituencies in the sectors of pre k-12, higher education, corporate, government, military, telehealth and home schooling—all of whom are seeking new opportunities to further their education and training. We will also address and debunk the stigmas and misconceptions associated with online education, and showcase that anyone, anywhere can attain an affordable, personalized and quality education.

A variety of print and digital sponsorship packages are available. Cross-platform packages include:
